WILL TUNNEL THE KOOLAU RANGE

Surveys for a Four-Mile Bore to Carry Water to Canefields Are to Be Made.

MR. McCANDLESS HAS WATER

Pays Castle $41,000 for Rights on Waikane and Waiahole Holdings.

A real estate deal which forms one of the most important steps toward the carrying of irrigation water through the mountains from the windward side of the Island of Oahu to the sugar plantations on the leeward side was made known yesterday. Out of the transaction will develop, if the engineering plans are feasible—and those directly interested in the project are confident of success—one of the most important pieces of tunnel work ever attempted in the Territory.

The deal itself was between J. B. Castle and L. L. McCandless. McCandless purchased of Castle the Waikane and Waiahole lands, aggregating between 500 and 600 acres, and extensive water rights. The price paid for the property was $41,000. The purchase of the land is a small transaction compared with the irrigation project in which it is involved and which will call for an expenditure of approximately $750,000.

McCandless purchased the property in his own name, but he expects to turn it over to the Oahu Sugar Company, which is at the present time employing a force of men, who are cutting a trail over the Koolau mountains preparatory to a final survey for a tunnel through the mountain range by way of that line of work.

The head of the tunnel will be at Lohapoko, near the land bought by McCandless.

SECRETARY WILL BE HERE ONLY ONE DAY

Will Be Kept Busy Looking Over Posts and Pearl Harbor—No Entertaining.

Col. Walter Schuyler, Fifth Cavalry, commandant at Schofield Barracks, received a cablegram yesterday announcing that Secretary of War Dickinson would leave San Francisco on the Pacific Mail steamship Siberia and arrive in Honolulu on July 4, leaving for the Orient on the same vessels at five o'clock in the afternoon.

Arrangements will be perfected for the secretary to visit all the military posts in and out of the city and the fortifications works at Pearl Harbor. Time visits will take up all his time, leaving no opportunity for him to accept invitations of a local nature.

The hope that the secretary of war might be prevailed upon to deliver an address here on the national holiday, has faded away in the light of Colonel Schuyler's arrangements. The secretary's inspection of the different army posts and fortifications is of the utmost value to the Territory's future, and much of the proposed development of the military strength in the Islands may depend upon the data he picks up here.

In all probability the question of the site of the proposed brigade post at Lihalea will be definitely settled while the secretary is here, and work on the post may commence within a few months.

PEOPLE WELCOME TO THE LAND LINK McCANDLESS WOULD LEASE

Although his is the first application for a lease of public land to be held up through the application of the homestead principles involved in the new laws of the Territory, L. L. McCandless is not on that account discouraged by the delay. On the contrary, he says he likes it.

"You appear to be taking a great interest in the Makua land matter and your connection with it," he said yesterday to The Advertiser. "Now, I want you to say for me that it matters not a bit that the Makua lands are the

MOLOKAI TABU TO POLITICIANS

Board of Health Will Allow No More Electioneering at Settlement.

The day of the politician at the leper settlement is past. No more shall Tearful Willie appear before the assembled masses of the great hospital and shed tears in his own behalf while he solicits the votes of the inmates. No longer shall the political orators mount the stump on Molokai and plead for vindication, endorsement and enthusiasm. The board of health has sat down on that proposition which has so long been a blot on the fair name of Hawaii.

The disapproval of the board of health is directly brought about by a petition from Tearful Willie Coelho, erstwhile and hopeful senator from (Continued on Page Two)

THERESA WILCOX TO START PAPER AGAIN

Honolulu is to have a new newspaper—the "Honolulu Examiner"—but it is not one of the Hearst string of dailies, for it will be only a weekly, to begin with, and will be edited under the direction of Mrs. Theresa Wilcox Bellevue.

The new publication is to be a four-page weekly, two pages of which are to be in English and the remaining ones in Hawaiian. The Hawaiian editor has already been chosen, and the English section, although under the editorial espionage of Mrs. Bellevue, will doubtless have contributions from those who are interested in making use of it for campaign purposes. It is expected to begin its publications in the near future, and at first may enter the plebiscite campaign, but its principal use will be in the coming political campaign. Just what its policies will be is a matter of conjecture as yet.

Whether Link McCandless finds that he needs an organ to tell all about Link McCandless is not known, but the politicians may find it necessary to have an independent newspaper, rather than to confine themselves to buying three-dollar-per-column in the Call.

BELGIAN BANNER FLIES IN PORT FOR FIRST TIME

Pioneer Vessel of Belgium Entered Honolulu Harbor Yesterday—She Is Training Ship L'Avenir From Newcastle.

BELGIAN TRAINING SHIP, L'AVENIR, LYING AT RAILWAY WHARF.

"The finest sailing ship in the world" came into port yesterday afternoon, and she flew the Belgian flag, the first time in the history of Honolulu that the flag has been flown in the harbor. The Belgian training ship L'Avenir arrived from Newcastle with a cargo of 3300 tons of coal, after a trip of sixty-five days from the Australian port. The ship was a beautiful sight as she rounded Diamond Head under a full spread of canvas, a white vision of grace and beauty. The vessel, masts, yards and all, is painted white. She was towed into the harbor by the tug Intrepid and was moored alongside Railway wharf No. 2.

The arrival of L'Avenir was the occasion of many congratulations to her commander, Captain Zander, and his officers, for both commander and officers were formerly with the North German Lloyd training ship Herzogin Sophie Charlotte, which made three visits to this port. The visits of the Charlotte were always occasions of great joy in the German colony, and therefore Captain Zander was greeted with warm alohas. Among the first aboard L'Avenir as she entered the harbor was Acting Belgian Consul H. Focke, the consul, R. Lange, being absent on the mainland at present. Accompanying him were Georg Rodiek, the Swedish consul, and F. Klebahn, not a consul just now, but possibly in the near future, at present the manager of the shipping department of Hackfeld & Co. In the cabin of L'Avenir, one of the most pretensions to be found on a sailing vessel, the health of King Albert was drunk in Belgium's best champagne product, and then more healths to Captain Zander and others.

Has Palatial Furnishings.

L'Avenir is a handsome vessel of 2100 tons gross, and has a length of 300 feet over all, with 48 feet beam, and when loaded is 23½ feet draft. Her decks are fitted with the finest gear, including winches, and her brasses gleam under constant polishing. The long afterdeck overtops the quarters of the officers, petty officers and caulets. There are dining cabins for each mess. The petty officers on this vessel have a mess of their own, something unusual in sailing vessels. The cabins are fitted (Continued on Page Five.)

MANUKA DELAYED BY FIRE IN CARGO

A message to the Merchants' Exchange, received shortly after midnight last night, announced that the Canadian-Australian steamship Manuka, which sailed from Vancouver for Honolulu yesterday, had put back to port with a fire in her after hold.

ROYAL DEAD WILL SOON BE MOVED

Arrangements for Placing Body of Hawaii's Past Aliis in New Vault.

THE CEREMONIES AT NIGHT

Queen, Prince Kuhio and Princess Kawananakoa Expected to Be Present.

With the arrival of Princess Kawananakoa from San Francisco on the Oceanic liner Sierra next Friday, the preparations will be complete for the removal of the caskets containing deceased members of the Kalakaua dynasty from the mausoleum to the crypts which have just been finished. The removal of the caskets will be attended with some of the old-time ceremonies attendant upon the funerals of royalty, and will commence at eight o'clock at night.

Queen Liliuokalani will be present, and if Prince Kuhio returns from Washington next week he will also be there. There are crypts or alcoves for nine caskets on each side of the vault, while two alcoves at the head of it will receive the caskets of the late King Kalakaua and his consort, Queen Kapiolani. Reservations have also been made for Liliuokalani, Prince Kuhio and ex-Governor Cleghorn.

Handsome Vault.

The new vault, which was built under a territorial appropriation of $20,000, will be a handsome affair. It is a vault built just below the surface of the lawn. After descending a flight of steps one enters a vestibule twelve feet square. Off this to one side is a large vault in which the caskets of Kalakaua and Kapiolani will be placed. On the other two sides are crypts, nine on each side. As soon as the caskets are placed in the alcoves masons will cement them in, and then the entire interior will be finished with a facing of marble slabs, fastened with bronze studs. The vestibule will be guarded by heavy and very handsome bronze grill gates. Looking (Continued on Page Four.)

ON BRINK OF MARTIAL LAW

Proclamation Drafted Ready for Signatures and Soldiers Are Under Arms.

WOULD TRICK GOV. GILLET

Fighters Schemed Way to Stop Any Interference, but Governor Meets the Issue.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—With a proclamation that requires only his signature to proclaim this city under martial law; with troops held in readiness to take possession of the government the minute the order is issued, and with the announcement on the part of intending defiers of the Governor still in abeyance, the situation that has developed out of the plans to stop the Langford-Kaufman fight is tense.

Yesterday, following announcement that under no circumstance would he allow the Jeffries-Johnson fight to be held on the Fourth of July, Governor Gillett followed his new policy to its logical conclusion and issued an order that the minor fight between Kaufman and Langford, scheduled for today, must be stopped. In view of the indifference of the San Francisco authorities and the apparent intention they had of allowing the fight to proceed despite the gubernatorial injunction, the Governor threatened to order out the militia to enforce the law. Coupled with this threat came an intimation to District Attorney Fickert that unless he would stop the fight, the militia would.

This threat had the effect intended, apparently, and Fickert and Martin adopted a new attitude, promising the governor that they would take the necessary steps to prevent the pugilists from filling their fight engagement. Receiving this promise, the governor held in abeyance the order he had prepared for the troops.

Injunction Threatened.

There was a sudden change in this amicable arrangement last night, however, the news leaking out that the fight promoter intended at the last moment to get out an injunction restraining the civil authorities of San Francisco from taking any steps to cancel his fight permit, issued by the supervisors. The announced intention was to secure the injunction and hurry on the fight before further steps could be taken to prevent it.

Hearing this report, the governor had drafted a proclamation, requiring only his signature to declare martial law in effect here, stating that he would sign it at the first move made by the fighters to interfere with the Fickert and Martin proceedings.

At the same time he issued an order to Adjutant-General Lanek, national guard of California, to hold troops in readiness to take possession of the city and to carry on the government under the proclamation.

Today Will Decide.

The promoter of the Kaufman-Langford fight announced last night that he would definitely announce this morning whether he was prepared to cancel the engagement or proceed in spite of law and proclamation.

Big Fighters Packing.

Jeffries and Johnson have practically conceded that they are not big enough to fight the law backed by the Governor and the weight of public opinion and are packing up their goods and chattels preparatory to shaking the dust of the State off their feet on Sunday. It is virtually certain that the fight will be held at Reno, Nevada.

Goldfield Ambitions.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—Although San Francisco has been prevented from being the scene of the great Jeffries-Johnson fight, the cities of Nevada are making a great bid for the contest.

Men of Goldfield, Nevada, have offered $120,000 for the fight, and Tex Rickard has given a tentative acceptance. Rickard will confer tomorrow with the representatives of the cities of Reno, Ely and Goldfield.
